Pastor's Corner

Rain, rain, go away, come again another day. Do you recall ever singing this little tune when you were a child. It was often sung when the rain prevented you from going outside to play. Some of you may have been singing this tune this past week as we have been engulfed by the rain on a daily basis. I was looking at some of Pamela's hanging baskets this past week and the flowers seemed droopy because of all the rain and cloudy skies. But on Tuesday, when the rain was gone and the sun was out, they all perked up.

It's amazing how a little sunlight can bring new life and energy into plants. We can all go through times in our own personal and spiritual lives where we seem inundated with dark and gloomy days. This is when we must run to Jesus, the One who is the Light of the world, and allow our hearts and minds to be filled with His truths. When this occurs, our spirit is renewed and hope rises and joy fills our soul. Despite gloomy days outside, we know with certainty that Jesus is the eternal light that never fails to illuminate God's goodness. God loves you and I do too.
